VOL. 38 BARIUM SPRINGS, N. C., SEPTEMBER 1961 NO. 9

A County Fair In The Front Yard

Barium Springs does not have to go to the fair, but rather the fair comes to Barium Springs. The Iredell County Fair is put on each year by the Kiwanis Club of Statesville, North Carolina, on grounds that join the campus of the Home. Thoughtfulness and consideration of the Kiwanis Club and interested citizens make possible the visit of the boys and girls of the Home to the fair every year for a whole afternoon in the middle of the fair week. This occasion is not necessarily a great illumination of the mind or a time for saving money, but it is exciting and thrilling to the boys and girls who year after year look forward to the time when the fair comes to them.

Board President Reports To Synod

It is a great pleasure to submit this report in behalf of the Board of Regents of the Presbyterian Orphans' Home. The year just concluded has been most successful in every respect and in many ways has been marked with rewarding achievements.

Religious Life

The religious life of the campus is of primary concern for all who live and work at Barium Springs. The leadership of Rev. Hugh B. Carter assisted by Miss Rosemary Rector is most satisfactory, and the regular service of the church, the church school and youth groups are progressing in every respect. Individual work and study is carried on with the children and cottage programs and visitation are planned and successfully accomplished.

School

This year, for the first time, grades five through eight joined grades nine through twelve at the Troutman Consolidated School. This new venture is working well, although it has brought about several changes in the daily operation of the Home, and has caused the administration and staff to be unusually busy in setting up a new pattern of life for the campus. The broadened community life has helped to reduce a good many of the tensions existing on the "Closed Campus." It affords an opportunity to see the reaction of the children in community life and also brings to them many new and happy relationships.

Home Facilities and Number of Children

The enrollment continues fairly steady at approximately 175 children while we have facilities available for 210.

The administration still adheres to the policy of accepting only those who are a part of the church, directly or indirectly, and who have the full approval of the local church in the community from which the application comes.

Finances

A total of $345,762 was received into the "Operating Fund" during the fiscal year ending September 30, 1960. 62% of this total came directly from the churches and we are most grateful for this generous and unselfish support. We are also truly grateful for the liberal and wonderful support from every source.

LETTERS TELL THE STORY

This letter tells the story of what has happened "after Barium Springs."

DEAR MISS CARPENTER:

What could be better to start the day off than to chat with a dear friend? So, since all the kids are still sleeping, I thought I would drop in on you for a while. There is not a week that goes by that I don't recall the wonderful days I spent at Barium. We were in Greensboro for a short visit this summer and I wanted so much to come to Barium but after visiting my people and getting the kids' starting another day, time flew by so fast and it was time to return home. I would like for you to meet my wonderful family and some day we will all be in person visiting you all and see the beautiful campus there at Barium.

Back row: left to right (a picture was enclosed)

ED holding SHEILA 3½. She's quite a baby now and need I say she's really the boss. I had almost all my teeth pulled so I dare smile in the picture.

PATRICIA twelve years, oldest of the seven and getting to be quite a young lady.

REBECCA ten years, better known as "Becky" is looking forward for school to begin.

EDDIE eleven years, most of all he loves to water ski and laughs at me because I haven't learned as yet.

Bottom:

THERESA eight years. The quietest one of all the family.

LELAND six years old—loves baseball and trying his best to ski like his daddy and brother.

CHRISTINE 5½ years old. The only one with dark hair in the family. She's wanting to enter school with the other ones, but she'll have to wait another year.

Thank God for the wonderful training and 'raising' I had at Barium which is helping me to care for our family. If you are ever in Florida, I would love to have you in for a visit.

Sincerely,

ADELIA KNIGHT JONES

Back To School By The Hundreds And To College By The Dozens

The Barium Springs family has shared with all other families in getting the boys and girls back in school and off to college for the winter's work. For the school days at home, there have been books and pencils, notebooks, Weekly Readers, class dues, registration fees, charges for special studies, gym suits, football equipment for the varsity and junior varsity, outfits for the band members, school enrollment and lunch room fees. It keeps a large number of people busy answering the questions and meeting the needs of the boys and girls as they prepare to continue their participation in the community school.

While this was going on, there was also the necessity of getting the boys and girls off to college. The Home's cars and station wagon have been piled high repeatedly with trunks, chairs, bed clothes, waste paper baskets, boxes, books, study lamps, pictures, coat hangers, and shoes as two dozen boys and girls have made their way to more than a dozen of the colleges in North Carolina and few beyond the bounds of the state. Barium Springs will be represented at Appalachian, Lees-McRae, Lenoir Rhyne, Mitchell, Woman's College, Pfeiffer, N. C. State, Mary Baldwin, St. Andrews, University of North Carolina, East Carolina, Davidson, and Presbyterian Hospital. The college boys and girls have their earnings supplemented by the Educational Funds of the Home. The funds are already established and the memorial fund which continues makes possible the further education and training after graduation from the Home.

The Thanksgiving Offering Is The Life-Line Of Barium Springs

UNDER THE STEEPLE

By Rev. Hugh B. Carter, Jr.

"God is our Father
Man is our brother
Earth is our Mother;
Life is a mission and not
A career.

Dominion is service,
Its sceptre is gladness,
The least is the greatest.
Saving is living;
Life is eternal and
Love is its crown."

The above lines from the pen and heart of the late Owen R. Lovejoy, Past President of the National Council of Social Work, Head of the National Child Labor Committee, and one of the nation's Great in the fight for a "square deal" for children. Dr. Lovejoy left the ministry of a church in Mount Vernon, New York to make the nation his parish as he launched his crusade to protect American children who were being used as laborers in the mines and mills and sweatshops and factories of America "on the move" in the first two decades of this century. He left the pulpit to enter the field of need among children who would never find their way to a place of worship on their one day of rest. He lived in Pullmans in days when the green curtains swayed through the night and soot sifted in through the screens; in hotel rooms and committee rooms, or wherever he could gather people to join in the defense of literally millions of children caught in the fast moving machinery of the industrial revolution in America.

These facts I have learned from the editor of "Somebody's Boy," one of his colleagues who survives the late minister and who carries on a ministry of another kind in defense of children who have been forgotten or deserted or otherwise deprived of a father's love and a mother's tenderness. The tribute to Owen Lovejoy who is now in the larger fold of the Great Shepherd prompts me to call attention to those who minister to children as Housemothers in Homes like Barium Springs.

The above little poem surely describes the creed of godly women in the lowly roll of "Housemother." Twenty-four hours a day she is on call for a dozen or more whom she calls "my boys" or "my girls." She has a small apartment in the cottage where the family does its living. Her door stays open. So does her heart. She hurts when they hurt, worries when they worry, and loves whether or not her love is returned. Most of the time it is. They come for a snack when they are hungry, and for solace when they are blue.

Housemothers are housemothers because they "have a calling" and for no other reason. Like all other parents, they are often misunderstood, mistreated, ignored, and unappreciated. Money doesn't pay us for being parents. It does not compensate for the times when growing boys and girls wear us down with loudness, or jab us with rudeness or deceive us with lies. Houseparents aren't in business for the money, but for the hope of an unseen return on whatsoever things are true, honest, just, pure, lovely, and of good report.

As a minister in a church on the campus of a children's home, I have come to know Housemothers at Barium Springs and on other campuses. One and all, they have my admiration and respect. They are a dedicated task force on the firing line in the everlasting battle that goes on to save the bodies and souls of children who have fallen upon hard times or evil days. God bless them, every one.

RUMPLE HALL

Hi,

Since you last heard from us, several things have happened. First of all, we got two more girls in our group. Their names are Brenda and Linda Williams. They are twins in the fourth grade, and they are ten years old. Their birthday is August 6, and they come from Chadbourn, North Carolina.

Also, we had several girls visiting us over the homecoming weekend. Brenda and Linda Shepherd from Greensboro who left Barium several years ago spent the weekend, along with Elva Medlin, one of our graduates this past year.

Everyone enjoyed seeing their old friends, eating a picnic lunch, and visiting the campus.

We started to school August 24. Since then we've been suffering from the heat. It has been real hot and dry.

The new cottage is really going up fast. The girls who will be moving in can hardly wait.

See you again next month.

Lou Anna Bridgers and
The Rumple Hall Girls

LOTTIE WALKER

Hi Friends,

School started Wednesday and we're busy working and studying. We get up at 6:15 now and eat breakfast at 7:00. We have devotions in the mornings before breakfast, and we all pitch in and help with it. Three of our seven high school girls are seniors. Also, we have four elementary school girls in which two go to Troutman. We have lost three girls since August——Judy Smith, Marsha and Linda Ivey. Now we only have eleven girls in our cottage. Some of our girls are going to a wedding this afternoon at 4:30. Kay Nance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nance, is getting married to Mickey Robins at our church. We are all looking forward to seeing the wedding.

Expenses for the year amounted to $326,680 leaving a surplus of $19,082. The Annual Report and study by The Duke Endowment indicates that we spent an average of $1,603 per child during this fiscal year. This compares very favorable with other institutions of comparable quality and size.

In addition to the normal operations of the home, certain capital expenditures were undertaken this year. The water line has been completed on the campus and every building has the use of city water. The staff quarters are complete and four of the five units are now occupied. The swimming pool is nearing completion and should be available for use by June 1. The replacement of Howard Cottage is progressing very satisfactorily and should be available for occupancy before the end of 1961. The completion of all these projects are eagerly anticipated by the entire campus, students and administration, and are expected to bring much happiness to all concerned for many years to come.

Conclusion

The members of the staff of the home continue to render excellent service. It is amazing how much good work is done by the nearly five dozen people who are charged with responsibility of caring for the children. Serving beyond the call of duty and investing in the name of the church are the labors of love from those who serve Barium Springs. Securing adequate replacements for those who retire and those who decide to make changes is exceedingly difficult.

The Superintendent should be highly commended for the exceptional job which he has done. And a special commendation should be extended for his attention and guidance in behalf of the high school graduates who wish to move on to the fields of higher education. In this respect, the "Educational Fund" is a life saver for the children. Last September there were 30 children from the home in school or training in 18 different institutions, most of which are in North Carolina.

Finally, I would take this opportunity to thank all members of the Board for their loyalty and devotion to this institution. The two regular meetings held during the year were well attended and each member contributed his full attention and talents to the problems at hand.

(This was taken from the report of M. C. Benton, Jr., President, which was presented to the Synod)

The Little Pigs Did Not Go To Market

The little pigs did not go to market but went to barbecue for Barium Springs and the Men of Concord Presbytery. It is exciting to see the big family at Barium Springs hustling to and fro in preparation for the coming of a thousand men from Concord Presbytery for a barbecue supper and a men's rally. The members of the Barium family eat their barbecue supper at 5:00 in order to be ready for the men who arrive shortly thereafter and continue to pour through the large dining room for two hours. When the meal is finished, they gather in Little Joe's Presbyterian Church packing it full and filling the yard and Fellowship Hall with the overflow crowd for the business of the men and the message of the evening.

This thrilling sight of seeing men pouring out of cars, buses, station wagons from all the churches of Concord Presbytery, making their way through the dining hall, and then coming together for the service of worship, inspires the heart and soul of all those who are a part of it.
